

Are you 65+ and have received services from a social worker? Or are you a substitute decision maker for someone 65+ that has?

If so, the New Brunswick Association of Social Workers (NBASW) wants to hear from you.

We are conducting a research project to understand how social workers impact the experiences of older adults in the Greater Fredericton Region when facing social issues such as poverty, social isolation, and accessing housing, home supports, healthcare, and transportation. Our goal is to understand ways to improve services.

If you or someone you know is interested in sharing your experiences, please contact us.

Contact us for more details or to register to participate.
